Accredited Bosch Contractor

What is an ABC Contractor?

Accredited Bosch Contractors are members of a select group of professional heating and air conditioning installers. They are individually selected by Bosch, then inducted into the program, factory-trained, and equipped with the information and tools required to install, service, and maintain Bosch and Buderus equipment to the highest standards.

Homeowner Benefits

Expertise. Contractors are selected by a Bosch representative based on the contractor's expertise in sizing, installing, and servicing HVAC systems. Additionally, the installer must attend factory training and routinely perform quality installations of one or more products such as:

- Tankless water heaters
- Heat pump and solar hot water systems
- Heating boilers
- Geothermal heat pumps

Extensive Training. An ABC contractor is factory-trained to properly install and service Bosch products and has experience installing such systems.

Extended Warranty Coverage. After installing your Bosch or Buderus heating or cooling system, the ABC Contractor registers the products on your behalf. You will receive a certificate of registration as proof of the extended one-year warranty as well as the standard warranty.

Exclusive No-Cost Extended Warranty. Only an ABC Contractor is authorized to provide this one-year extended warranty in addition to the standard Bosch product warranty for added peace of mind.

Technical Expertise. If your Bosch HVAC system ever requires service, an ABC Contractor has access to spare parts along with technical support from Bosch and Buderus factory-trained experts.

Look for an Accredited Bosch Contractor. Consider the benefits of the installer's extensive factory training and technical support, plus a no-cost extended warranty on your new HVAC system.
